Feb. 11 in the SIU-Arena. Also in group are Martin's wife, Elise, and SIU-C President Warren W. Brandt. Martin was inducted Feb. 10 in SIU's new athletic Hall of Fame. Russell Martin is a Springfield engineer and Kenneth heads his own oil geology firm in New Orleans.

New STC Building Is 70% Complete

In spite of winter blizzards that dropped a near-record 16 inches of snow on the SIU campus during January and February, the school's single major construction project now under way should be finished on time.

It's a new $6.1 million classroom and laboratory building for SIU's School of Technical Careers, slated to open in August.

Some construction time has been lost by the bad weather, but the three-story, 88,400-square-foot building is nearly 70 percent complete, Jack Moore, SIU physical plant architectural superintendent, said.

The exterior is nearly completed and the interior partitions are being put up, Moore said. Painting, carpeting, tile and light fixture work and the installation of the elevator will follow.

Programs moving from STC's old Southern Acres campus near Carterville onto the new campus building include: mortuary science, dental laboratory technology, dental hygiene, electronics, secretarial and office specialties, multi-medial services and nursing.

Another 50,000-square-foot home is planned for STC's "hard technologies" and law enforcement programs, but for now they'll be at the old campus. Those include: photographic and audiovisual technology, commercial graphics, building construction, tool manufacturing and automotive technologies, and law enforcement and correctional services.

Research Might Change Coal Conversion

Aided by a $40,000 research grant from the Federal Energy Research and Development Administration, two SIU researchers hope to find new catalysts to revolutionize the coal conversion processes.

The professors, William Brower, an engineer, and Gerard V. Smith, a chemist, have teamed to find catalysts which could increase the efficiency and lower the cost of coal liquefaction and gasification.

Those processes — which convert coal to liquid and gaseous forms — yield energy byproducts which could someday replace petroleum.

A New Service

Alumni Association Offers Insurance

Dear Alumni

We feel that one of the most important functions of any organization is service. For an Alumni Association such as ours, it is through these services that we hope to keep our alumni informed, active, and interested in SIU.

Alumni services are pointed in many different directions — this bi-monthly Alumnus publication, geographic area clubs, college and school professional groups, class reunions, Homecoming activities, family camping program, employment assistance, group travel programs, awards programs (Great Teacher and Alumni Achievement), Student Alumni Board, student scholarships and loans, use of campus facilities, and many others.

As announced previously, a new service is being introduced this month after over a year of study by an alumni committee and approval by your Board of Directors. It is an Alumni Association sponsored group term life insurance plan specially designed with you in mind. Graduates and former students are eligible to participate in what you Association believes provides a great opportunity for supplemental protection to your present insurance program at very attractive rates. A first mailing is being sent to you this month; possibly, you will have received it already.

We proudly invite you to participate. You may purchase $10,000 to $50,000 that may be continued through age 69, plus your choice of $5,000 or $10,000 for your spouse and up to $2,500 for each of your unmarried dependent children (ages 14 days to 23 years). Also, a special Guaranteed Acceptance Provision allows eligible graduates and former students age 44 or under to apply for $10,000 at the same group rates.

Neither the University nor the Alumni Association incurs any expense in providing this program to you. All costs are borne by the administrator, Association Consultants, Inc., and the insurance company, Bankers Security Life Insurance Society.

There will be no salesman call — your only contact will be by mail.

We hope you will take advantage of this meaningful new service, and we look forward to continuing to serve you and SIU.

Sincerely,

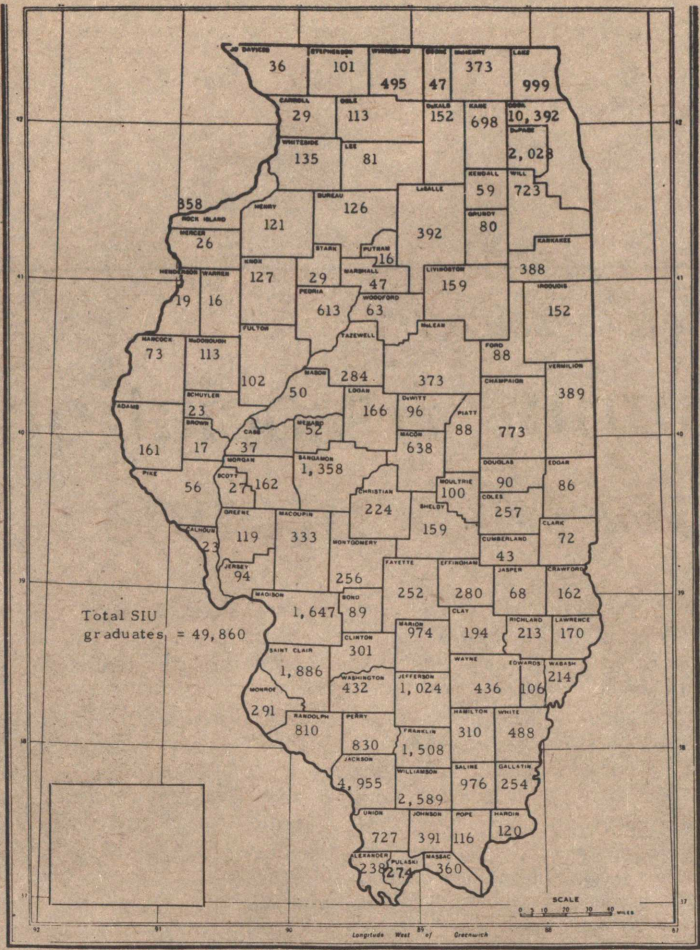

Keith R. Sanders
President
SIU Alumni Association

The January Alumnus pictured Altgeld Hall on its cover with a comment about the mild winter Carbondale was having. Two days after the tabloid was published, Carbondale received over 12 inches of snow. And for the first time in SIU's history, school was closed for three days due to the weather, Jan. 17-18 and Jan. 25. As you can see from this scene, the winter was hardly mild. (SIU Photographic Services photo)

A Jan. 1, 1978 membership report shows that SIU has alumni in every county in Illinois, every state in the union and 88 foreign countries. The top five foreign countries are:

Canada (148), Thailand (62), British Crown Colony (54), Iran (44) and India (42) alumni. These figures include the 1977 graduation classes.

From the Editor: Toot Your Horn!

The Alumnus never writes about me!

Has this thought ever crossed your mind? If it has, please stop and think, when was the last time you penned a letter to the Alumni Association to let us know what you are doing.

Oh, yes we do get numerous news releases from companies, from the military and from many universities who have hired your friends and mine — and we really appreciate them.

And yes, we do get many personal letters which help us trace the movement of our SIU friends. And, too, we are thankful that you take time out of your busy schedules to communicate.

But, there are many persons we can't write about because we don't have a current address and can not contact them.

Even in my sphere of friends, I often wonder if Dave Cooper, a co-sports writer on the Daily Egyptian with me as an undergraduate, is still writing sports?

Or whatever happened to Charlie Springer, a friend of mine that I lost contact with in 1969.

Or whatever happened to Nancy Schoenbeck? Did she marry Al and live happily everafter?

I'm sure you have lost contact with some of your SIU friends and are wondering some of the same.

Our statistics currently list some 82,350 alumni who have graduated or at least attended SIU. Let us know about your family, your latest job and perhaps your new address.

And too, there are some 6,000 SIU Alumni who have no forwarding address. Of course, if you are reading this article, you can be sure we have some address for you, but has it been forwarded from your parents or perhaps from your last address?

The March 1977 issue generated 4,400 address changes which cost the Alumni office 25 cents for each changed forwarded from the post office.

We WANT to write about all of you, your friends, your former roommates or your former professors.

So take a little time, use the coupon at the bottom of the page and update us on your activities. Maybe even send us a recent photo.

Send your replies, your questions, your promotional releases to Barb Leebens, Editor, SIU Alumni Association, Faner Hall, Carbondale, Ill. 62901.

SIU Police Settle Dispute

Negotiators for SIU and the campus security policemen, announced a settlement Feb. 1, of a four-month wage dispute that saw the police walk off their jobs for the first time in SIU's history.

The agreement boosts police officers' salaries by 96 cents an hour over a two-year period.

In addition, the contract calls for a two-and-one-half percent increase in longevity pay for officers after five years of service and five percent increase after 10 years. Both increments take effect Jan. 2, 1979.

The agreement is retroactive to July 1, 1977, and will expire July 1, 1979.

Before the settlement, the average base pay for patrolmen had been $5.60 per hour and for sergeants, 6.20 an hour.

The patrolmen and sergeants walked off the job Oct. 6.

Rowe Elected Chairman

Harris Rowe, an insurance executive from Jacksonville, Ill., was re-elected chairman of the SIU Board of Trustees Feb. 9.

He is the chief executive officer of the Central National Life Insurance Co., and has been a member of the board since 1971 and was first elected chairman in 1977.

SIU alumnus William R. Norwood '59 of Elk Grove Village was elected vice-chairman. He is the first black to be elected to a board office and one of three blacks ever to serve on the board.

A member of the board since 1974, Norwood, who is a senior pilot for United Airlines, replaced Carmi attorney Ivan A. Elliott, Jr., who did not seek re-election.

Madison Trustee Margaret Blackshere was unanimously re-elected secretary.

SIU alumnus Carol Kimmel ex '37 of Rock Island, and Wayne Heberer, a Belleville-area pork producer, were elected to serve on the board's three-member executive committee. As chairman, Rowe automatically serves.

SIU Trains Refugees

With the aid of over $135,000 in grants, a team of SIU instructors is teaching Southern Illinois Indochinese refugees the basic skills needed to integrate into American society.

The program's goal is to increase the refugees' language skills to the degree where they can function and get jobs.

That's why the program, started last November as a part of SIU's Evaluation and Developmental Center, was created. The Center is part of the University's Rehabilitation Institute.

Many of the estimated 130 Indochinese refugees in Southern Illinois wash dishes or bus tables; a few others are on welfare.

"My main objective," he said, "is to develop students' vocabularies and conversational skills."

There are about 10 similar programs in Illinois, but the SIU project is unique because it was put together by drawing from various funding sources.

Part of the funds, $56,803, comes from the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare through the Illinois Office of Education.

The Illinois Farmer's Union added $30,000 and program authorities are anticipating a $50,668 grant from the governor's Office on Manpower and Human Development.

The Illinois Dept. of Public Aid provides financial assistance to refugees who place their children in child care facilities while they attend school.

Patricia Mills of Princeton (128 N. Mercer), a student dental hygienist in SIU's School of Technical Careers, wields her instruments as she cleans and polishes a patient's teeth in the University's Mobile Dental Hygiene Clinic. The mobile clinic, a 30-foot trailer, is operated in small Southern Illinois communities. Looking on (background) are Dr. Michael Durr (left), STC faculty dentist who directs the mobile clinic program, and Arden Pratt, STC dean.

Civil Service Votes For Unionization

Over 611 SIU civil service employees voted Feb. 2, to be represented in collective bargaining by the Civil Service Bargaining Organization, an affiliate of the Illinois Education Association.

Thirty-five of 55 civil service job classifications chose the union.

The election actually was 55 separate elections, with employees voting only on whether workers in their job classifications should be unionized or not.

Secretary-stenographers and secretary-transcribers were the largest group to vote in favor of unionization. The two classifications make up about 50 percent of the employees who will be represented.

The largest classification voting against the union was cashiers. They total about 15 to 20 on the SIU campus.

Prior to the election, SIU negotiated contracts with 11 unions covering about 550 workers.

Another Illinois Dept. of Labor election will be held in March or April to consider additional civil service classifications for unionization.

SIU Scholars Hope to Write Vietnamese/ English Dictionary

Two SIU scholars have launched a three-year project to write the first English-Vietnamese dictionary ever printed in the United States.

With the help of a $97,101 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, linguistics professors Dinh-Hoa Nguyen and Charles Parish hope to produce the largest Vietnamese-English, English-Vietnamese dictionary ever published.

"The dictionary will contain an abundance of illustrative examples, a glossary of technical terms and a number of other features not heretofore included in other dictionaries," Nguyen said.

It also will feature contemporary Communist terminology.

The dictionary, which will probably contain more than 40,000 entries, should be extremely helpful to the over 200,000 Vietnamese refugees now living in the United States, Nguyen said.

During the next three years, the two professors will contact scholars and research material at several American universities and the Library of Congress plus reviewing Vietnamese publications to accumulate material.

In addition, the National Endowment for Humanities has offered to match additional funds the project receives from other organizations which could mean as much as $97,000.

Let Us Help You Want a Job Change?

Jan has been a housewife for five years and now she wants to enter the job market. Jim has a degree in journalism, but has been a mail clerk for three years and is bored.

To alleviate these frustrations, the SIU Career Planning and Placement Center (CPPC) in cooperation with the Alumni Association is offering a job search workshop April 29 in the Chicago area.

"Fishing, Slavery and Parachutes," a workshop designed to help persons take advantage of the "hidden" job market will be presented from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at DuPage College, DuPage, Ill.

The workshop is based upon the principles set forth in a bestseller by Richard Bolles called, "What Color is Your Parachute?" The book is hailed by the critics as the "best job-hunters' and job-changers' guide ever written.

According to Bolles, who believes that most workers change careers three to five times in their lifetimes, the three qualities necessary for career advancement are resourcefulness, initiative and action.

Paul Henry, workshop coordinator, said, "It is a rather new approach to job hunting which places the responsibility with the job seeker. We try to make persons aware of the type of skills they have and the ones they'll need to utilize."

Workshop participants will receive assertiveness training for job interviews and they will learn how to conduct field surveys to locate companies that correspond with the employment surroundings that the person is seeking.

In addition, the workshop will give tips on interviewing techniques, resume writing, role playing and the rationale of an active job search.

Enrollment is limited to a first-come, first-served basis. A notice of the event will be sent out to all Chicago area alumni. But in order to be able to accommodate all interested persons, it is imperative to register immediately.

On a separate piece of paper, list your name and address, your college major and the year you graduated. List your current position or your desired position.

Send this information to Paul Henry, CPPC, Woody Hall, SIU Carbondale, Ill. 62901.

A nominal fee will be listed in the notice to the Chicago area alumni.

For additional information, you can call the CPPC at 618-536-2096 or call the Association at 618-453-2408.

You Can Help Marching Salukis Need New Uniforms

Their uniforms are almost threadbare.

For 17 years, the Marching Salukis have used the same band uniforms.

The Homburgs are worn, the pants are faded and the famous tuxedos have been altered and fixed to fit many different sizes in the 100 to 120 member band.

Mike Hanes, the director of the Marching Salukis, realizes it is time for new uniforms. However, there is one problem - money.

To outfit the entire band, it would cost about $20,000 or a little over $100 per uniform and Hanes doesn't know where he is going to get the money.

In the past, the band was able to get some financial assistance from student activities funds, but this is no longer possible.

So Hanes is publicizing the band's plight to try to collect enough money for the new uniforms.

A normal life expectancy of a band uniform is 10 years, but most universities change uniforms more frequently, he said.

Hanes has been hesitant to change the Salukis' apparel due to its popularity.

It was in 1961 that the Marching Salukis broke tradition and changed from the accepted military-type band uniform to a more modernistic-flashy

Early Fall Admission Sought

In order for freshmen and transfer students to get a headstart on housing, financial aid and preferred majors, it is necessary for them to apply as soon as possible for fall semester admission.

Interested individuals must gain admission to SIU before they can be considered for University housing or financial aid, Jerre Pfaff, associate director of admissions and records, said.

To qualify, freshmen must rank in the upper half of their graduating class and obtain an American College Test (ACT) score of 16 or a composite Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) score of 720.

appearance.

"We really broke away from the masses when we changed to the tuxedo-type uniform. That was a total departure from the mode. Traditionally bands had and were wearing military uniforms and playing military flavored music. We wanted to play more popular tunes and felt the accepted uniforms of the day would clash with jazz. We made the switch and many others followed," Hanes said.

Well-known for their arrangement of the "National Anthem," the rousing and inspiring music of the Marching Salukis has captivated many SIU audiences.

And too, for 13 consecutive years, the band has appeared at one St. Louis Cardinal's home game and played this year at a Chicago Bears' game.

Hanes wants to preserve the tuxedo image. The proposed uniform includes a tuxedo-type jacket with a knotted lapel instead of the current shawl lapel. The lapel will be outlined with black and white piping.

We still want to be distinctive, but we wanted to update the image a little," Hanes said.

If you wish to make a donation to help the Marching Salukis get new uniforms, fill out the coupon below.

Ag School Gets Grant

SIU's School of Agriculture has received a $33,302 grant to help upgrade Illinois secondary and post-secondary education programs in agriculture.

The grant from the Illinois Dept. of Adult, Vocational and Technical Education calls for the development of new program standards for Illinois high school and community college agriculture programs.

An ACT score of 19 or an SAT score of 800 will qualify freshmen applicants regardless of their class rank.

Freshmen interested in a two-year degree at the School of Technical Careers must score 16 on the ACT and 720 on the SAT or rank in the upper two-thirds of their graduating class.

An overall C average can qualify transfer students. But, transfer students with less than 26 semester hours must meet requirements for beginning freshmen.

Admissions information is available by calling (618) 453-4381. In Illinois, call toll free: 800-642-3531.

Eleven Percent Make Dean's List

Approximately 2,170 students, slightly more than 11 and a half per cent of the total undergraduate population were posted to the fall semester academic dean's list.

Different criteria are required by SIU's schools and colleges for students who compile grade point averages meeting exceptional performance standards. The standards range from 3.25 to 3.75 on a scale of

In addition, a total of 723 students recorded "straight A's."

Dean's list students this past fall recorded an average GPA of 3.786.

The average overall grade point for the total student body including undergraduates and graduates for fall 1977 was 2.71, according to Lewis Robinson, statistician for Admission and Records.

Grapplers Post 5-15 Mark

The grapplers compiled a disappointing 5-15 record this season, but a very young and inexperienced Saluki team got some impressive performances from several wrestlers.

Junior John Gross (118) compiled a 17-11 mark, sophomore Paul Hibbs (142) went 20-11-1, senior Dale Eggert (150) went 16-14, and junior Tom Vizzi (190) compiled a 10-16-1 record. Their records might have been better if the wrestlers had not wrestled out of their weight class.

Those four could well be factors in the upcoming NCAA meet to be held at the Air Force Academy in late March, and the national finals in Maryland.

Gymnasts Hope to Regain Title

By Mitch Parkinson
Women's Sports
Information Director

SIU Coach Herb Vogel has his women's gymnastics team on a vigorous timetable. With the clock wound and running down fast, the big hand could point to SIU's fourth AIAW National Championship.

Since January, the Salukis have been refining high risk stunts which could help the gymnasts regain the American intercollegiate crown.

The Salukis have a personal score to settle with Clarion College. Clarion has pre-empted SIU as the top women's intercollegiate gymnastics power. They did it by halting the Salukis' national title string at two (1974, 1975), and by winning AIAW team titles of their own the past two years.

SIU appears to be on schedule for the Nationals but first comes a date at the Midwest Regionals. The Salukis who have never lost a regional title will be out to keep that win skein intact at Ohio State University March 10-11.

The Salukis completed a 15-5 regular season and successfully defended their AIAW State title.

SIU All-Americans Linda Nelson and Cindy Moran, overcame bouts with the flu to take the top two individual spots in the State at Rock Island, Ill., recently.

Nelson, a Louisville, Ky., junior, took first in the All-Around competition, edging sophomore Moran in total scoring 34.4 to 34.2.

The two SIU stalwarts got star-studded State assistance from a couple of Saluki youngsters. Freshman Ellen Barrett pulled down a 9.35 mark to lead a SIU vaulting sweep, while Maureen Hennessey tied for first place in uneven bars and second in vaulting.

Vogel feels both Moran and Nelson have a good chance to finish among the top ten individual performers at the Nationals March 29-31.

"Both girls appear to be peaking at just the right time, and they'll be going for broke in the days ahead. We've added more high risk skills to both girls' routines in vaulting, bars and beam," explains Vogel who has compiled a 165-15 record in his 15-years at the SIU gymnastics helm.

As for SIU's team chances at the Nationals, Vogel expresses cautious optimism.

"We've got quality kids but with all our inexperience we may be two to three years away from another AIAW National title. If we are to be in serious contention in Seattle, each and every girl must give us a maximum effort and her best performance."

Gymnasts Must Beat ISU to Win Regional

defending NCAA co-champ Indiana State at Terre Haute. The Salukis also have defeated Ball State, New Mexico, Illinois State.

Leading SIU thus far have been a trio of all-arounders, as sophomore Dan Muenz has scored a six event total of 54.80, compared to Rick Adams' 54.70. Kevin Muenz, Dan's older brother, has scored 53.55.

Dan Muenz has a top score of 9.5 in horizontal bar, while the top specialists have been David Schieble, who has a 9.45 in pommel horse, Jeff Barlow with a 9.5 in vaulting, and Randy Bettis who has recorded a 9.3 in floor exercise.

The win over Indiana State is especially important, for SIU must beat the Sycamores in order to win the NCAA Midwest Regional and advance to the national finals on April 6-8 at Eugene, Ore. The Midwest Regional will be held at Terre Haute, Ind., on March 17-18.

For the Second Consecutive Year

Jones Hopes to Return to World Series

Richard "Itchy" Jones heads into his ninth year at the Saluki baseball helm with hopes of guiding his squad to its second straight College World Series appearance.

SIU comes off a 41-12 season that saw them finish third in the CWS. The Salukis return four starting pitchers and six regulars.

Heading the returnees is first baseman Craig Robinson, a senior who hit .345 last year while leading the club in RBI's (51), doubles (14) and homeruns (7). Robinson is a legitimate All-American candidate.

Also, Jones has returnees Jerry De Simone, a junior shortstop; Chuck Curry, a junior outfielder; Steve Stieb, a senior catcher; Jim Robinson, a senior third baseman and Bruce Hanson, a senior outfielder.

The pitching staff is in the capable hands of right-handers Kevin Waldrop, senior (9-2, 1.76 era); Rick Keeton, a junior (8-2, 4.14 era); and Bob Knezevich, a sophomore (4-1, 1.48 era), who team up with lefty Rob Simond, a junior (6-4, 4.04 era), to give SIU a mound group that will hard to beat in 1978.

Several newcomers to the Carbondale campus could see considerable action as well. Juco transfer Dave Stieb, younger brother of Steve, is a probable starter in the outfield, replacing departed All-American, George Vukovich.

Stieb is joined by five freshmen recruits that could well be a factor in the Saluki picture this year. Bob Doerr (Richton Park, Ill.), a second baseman-shortstop and Jim Adduci (Chicago, Ill.) may well end up being starters for Jones along with pitchers Paul Evans (Granite City, Ill.), Rod Peterson (Moline, Ill.), and Bob Schroeck (Cincinnati, Ohio).

All in all, 1978 should once again be a year to remember under the direction of Jones and his assistant, Mark Newman.

Salukis Take Second In MVC

By Dave Lancer
Asst. Sports
Information Director

A 75-59 loss to Drake in the first round of the Missouri Valley Conference tourney played Feb. 27 at the Arena, ended the SIU Basketball season on a disappointing note, but what a season it was.

Taking a young team with no seniors on the roster, Coach Paul Lambert took his charges to the regular season's final game with Creighton in a tie for first in the MVC.

And even though the Salukis lost, 62-56, before a home crowd of 9,950 fans and a regional television audience (minus star player Gary Wilson), SIU outdid even the most optimistic fan's greatest expectations. The loss dropped the Salukis to a 17-10 mark.

After struggling through the pre-conference games with a 5-4 record, the Salukis opened up the Valley with two consecutive road losses at the hands of Indiana State (66-58) and Bradley (86-81) before returning home to capture their first conference win of the year, knocking off Drake 72-69.

Then Salukis evened the conference slate at 2-2 with a win over visiting Tulsa, 67-58 before stunning previously unbeaten and fourth-ranked Indiana State 79-76 at the SIU Arena before a sell-out crowd of 10,014. Guard Wayne Abrams had his finest day of the season in the win over the Sycamores hitting 9 of 10 shots from the field while scoring 22 points.

With three in a row under their belts, the young Salukis took to the road to battle Creighton and Wichita State in key Valley contests. SIU started on a good note defeating the Bluejays in Omaha for the first time ever and then polished off the trip with their fifth straight conference win, a 66-59 win over Wichita State, Southern's first win at Wichita in 10 years. The Creighton win however, was costly as center Al Grant broke a finger and was lost to SIU until the last two games.

Despite playing without a true center, the Salukis captured win number six with a 77-70 win over West Texas State as forward Gary Wilson tallied a season high 27 points. The winning streak ended there as the visiting New Mexico State Aggies knocked off the maroon and white, 72-69, despite a fine 19 points effort from Milton Huggins.

With their conference record now at 6-3, SIU took off on a two-game road trip to Drake and Tulsa trailing conference leader NMSU by two games. The Salukis knocked off Drake 90-87 in Des Moines, thanks to the career high efforts of Huggins with 24 points and Barry Smith with 22. Two nights later in Tulsa, the Salukis were upset in overtime, 80-77, by the Golden Hurricane despite a 24 point effort by Wilson and a 20 pointer by Huggins.

The Salukis returned home to host St. Louis in a non-conference game. Behind the 18-point shooting of Huggins, SIU defeated the Billikens 60-58 on a last second shot by Abrams.

Standing 7-4 in the MVC, SIU hosted Wichita State and with four players in double figures, defeated the Shockers for the second time, 60-53 to move to 8-4 to stay in title contention.

Playing in the key road games of the season, the Salukis travelled to the southwest to defeat both West Texas State (80-61) and New Mexico State (77-72) to up their record to 10-4 and move them within two wins of the second straight MVC title.

The Salukis moved into a first place tie with Creighton by defeating visiting Bradley, 93-82, with six players scoring in double figures led by Abrams with 20. However, forward Wilson sprained an ankle in the first half and was lost for the remainder of the year.

With first place and a bye to the finals of the MVC tournament on the line, the Salukis hosted Creighton, but were unable to overcome Wilson's absence in dropping a heartbreaking 62-56 verdict to the Bluejays.

Two-days later the season ended as Drake beat SIU.

Tracksters Cop MVC

Coach Lew Hartzog's Saluki indoor track team capped the Illinois Intercollegiate and the Missouri Valley Conference title for the third consecutive year.

The Salukis won the Illinois Intercollegiate for the fifth time in ten tries, defeating host Illinois 169-143. Winning individual titles for SIU were Tim Johnson, pole vault; Rick Rock, long jump; Stan Podolski, 35 pound weight throw; Jerry George, mile run; John Marks, shot put; and Mike Bisase in the 880 yard run.

A flu-hampered-SIU team easily captured its third Valley title in as many years, as the Salukis outdistanced West Texas State 166-111. Winning individual honors for SIU were Ken Lorraway in both the long and triple jump; Mike Kee in the 60 and 300 yard dash events, Andy Roberts in the 60 yard high and low hurdles, Tim Johnson in the pole vault; John Marks in the shot put, and Mike Bisase in the 880 yard run. Lorraway set a Valley record in the triple jump of 51-10½, breaking a mark set by SIU's Phil Robbins in 1976; while Andy Roberts tied conference records in both hurdles events and Kee equaled another mark in the 60 with a 6.1 timing.

The Salukis have qualified six competitors for the NCAA indoor nationals to be held in Detroit on March 10-11. Qualified thus far are Kee, 60 yard dash; Marks, shot put; Podolski, 35 pound weight throw; Rock, long jump; Kee, mile; and Roberts in the 60 yard high hurdles.

Swimmers Look to Nationals

Young and aggressive, the 1977-78 SIU swimming team coached by Bob Steele, has competed well enough to capture first-place finishes in the 1978 Illinois State Championships, Saluki Invitational, and Miner Relays, a second-place in the Illinois State Relays, and an overall dual meet record of 6-2.

Up to this point, Saluki swimmers David Parker, Greg Porter, Jorge Jaramillo, and the relay team of Ral Rosario, Steve Jack, Porter, and Dan Friebe have all qualified for NCAA swimming competition.

Diving for the Salukis will be sophomores Rick Theobald, Bill Cashmore, and Garry Mastey. Both Theobald and Cashmore have met qualifying scores for both the three and one-meter boards, Mastey has yet to qualify on the three-meter board. All indications point to a very productive meet and possibly a finish in the top 10.

Standouts who are on the verge of qualifying for the NCAA's include: freestylers Pat Looby, Bob Samples, and Alabama transfer Dan Griebel; backstroke Ral Rosario; breaststroke Steve Jack; and distance man Chris Phillips. These and all of the other 1978 SIU swimmers and divers have turned in an excellent year despite their age.

Nineteen Athletes Inducted Into the Sports Hall of Fame

By Tom Wood '68
News Bureau Editor
University News Service.

From 84-year-old Cecil Bass to professional football quarterback Jim Hart, fourteen of 16 living members of the 19 inductees returned Feb. 10 to SIU to be inducted into the University's First Annual Sports Hall of Fame.

Only Walt Frazier of the Cleveland Cavaliers who was playing basketball in Milwaukee and Eugene Payton who was delayed because of heavy snow in Chicago were unable to return before 300 fans and friends at a banquet given in their honor at the Student Center.

Nominations for the Hall of Fame were made from among two groups of athletes, those whose contributions fell in the time period 1913 to 1945, and those whose accomplishments came after 1945.

Ten men were honored in the first period. They were: William "Mac" McAndrew, Leland P. "Doc" Lingle, Bass, Frank Merritt "Skeezil" Allen, Payton, Raymond E. "Cabbage" Floyd, Virgil "Cuss" Wilson, Glenn "Abe" Martin, Clarence Stephens and Lynn Holder.

From the 1946 period, nine men were honored. They were: Jim Lovin, Marion Rushing, Carver Shannon, Charles "Chico" Vaughn, Russell "Rusty" Mitchell, Larry Kristoff, George Woods, Hart and Frazier.

Background of the 1913-1945 Inductees

Called the father of SIU athletics, McAndrew came to SIU in 1913 to build a coaching program as supervisor of athletics and the director of physical training for men.

Serving the University periodically from 1913 until his death in 1943, McAndrew was head of physical education for men, head football and basketball coach and athletic director.

He had the longest tenure of any coach in the now defunct Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and coached the 1938 basketball team in the International Basketball Tournament. SIU's McAndrew Stadium is named after him.

Lingle '21 returned to SIU in 1921 as assistant football coach. He started a track team in 1927, and coached the sport for 33 years. One of his track stars was SIU's first Olympic track participant.

His track teams won 13 conference titles and three titles in cross country. Lingle, a native of Cobden, Ill., retired in 1960, from SIU as a professor of physical education. He died in 1964.

The oldest known living letterman, Bass starred on the 1914 and 1915 SIU football teams and earned three letters in basketball. He was captain of the 1913 and 1914 basketball teams.

Bass was a member of the 1915 football team that distinguished itself by defeating the International University of Arts and Sciences, 118-0. Bass, a native of Benton, is currently living in Carbondale.

The University's only six-letter winner in basketball, "Skeezil"

Allen, actually played varsity ball for SIU while still attending high school.

He captained one SIU team and was a standout performer throughout his career. After graduating in 1927, he became a coach and teacher at McLeansboro, Alto Pass, Ridgway, Eldorado, Carbondale, and Freeport, Ill., where he now lives.

Payton was one of the University's great all-time tracksters. Practically a one-man team, he competed in the 60-and 100-yard dashes, 60-and 220-yard low hurdles and long jump.

Scoring 12 of SIU's 15 points at the 1936 Illinois Intercollegiate Meet at Normal and 12 of SIU's 19 points in the same meet the following year, Payton helped SIU win the Illinois State Teacher's College championships in 1937 and 1938.

Best known for his kicking exploits, "Cabbage" Floyd won letters in football from 1924 to 1927. In the era of the dropkick, he was heralded as the "man with the educated toe."

Floyd's 52-yard dropkick still is a school record. One of his most dramatic kicks defeated Cape Girardeau 17-14 in the latter's homecoming game in 1924.

Floyd '29, '27-2, MSED '56, also a standout guard and tackle, was a high school coach, teacher and athletic director for years at Mariss and Wood River. Now he lives in Carbondale.

A standout basketball and tennis player, "Cuss" Wilson now deceased, earned seven letters in those two sports between 1926 and 1930. He captained the 1928 and 1929 basketball teams and played guard on the 1927 team that won the first Normal School Tournament at Bloomington.

Wilson was one-half of the 1929 and 1930 Little Nineteen Conference Tournament doubles championship team. He devoted his life to coaching and was honored by the Illinois High School Association for his coaching at Ridgway and Marion.

A multi-sport man, Martin '32, was a great athlete as well as a distinguished coach. He lettered in football and track from 1929 until 1931 and captained the only undefeated SIU football team in 1930.

An outstanding halfback, Martin played one year of professional football with the Chicago Cardinals before joining the coaching ranks at Fairfield, Ill. He later coached at Princeton and Pontiac.

At SIU, he was head baseball coach for 19 years, winning one NCAA college division championship (1964) and finishing runner-up once (1965). The baseball field is named after him. He lives in Largo, Fla. In 1973, Martin was awarded an alumni achievement award for service to Southern.

A tackle and letter winner on four SIU football teams, from 1929 until 1932, Stephens '33 was a member of the University's only undefeated grid squad.

He also distinguished himself on the tennis court, winning the Little Nineteen Conference doubles championships in both 1932 and 1933.

His athletic career was followed by an equally distinguished professional career. He retired from SIU in 1971 after serving as an instructor at University School, the first director of student work and financial aid, special assistant to Delyte W. Morris.

One of the great all-around athletes, Holder won eight varsity letters. He was a forward and all-conference and all-Midwest pick by the Associated Press as a basketball forward and AP all-state selection as a football halfback between 1931 and 1934.

Holder '35 co-captained the 1934 football team, which played in the Little Nineteen Conference. A Carbondale native, Holder coached at Lawrenceville High School before returning to Carbondale in 1946, as basketball coach, golf coach and assistant football coach, positions he held until 1958. He relinquished the football and basketball jobs then to coach golf and teach physical education.

Inductees from 1946 to Present

A four-year football letter-winner (1946-1949), Lovin was voted most valuable by his teammates in both 1946 and 1949. A four-time all-conference selection, he started every game during his four-year career.

He captained the 1949 team and his exploits led to the retirement of his jersey by SIU, only one of three people thus honored (others are Frazier and Harry Bobbitt).

Lovin '50, MSED '55, a native of Benton, currently lives in Carbondale, where he is the assistant football coach at Carbondale Community High School.

Another outstanding all-around athlete, Rushing '59 lettered in football (four years), basketball (two years), wrestling (two years) and track (three years).

Rushing was named most valuable in football in 1957, captain of the 1959 football team, all-conference in football and wrestling and twice winner of the Hinkley Award as SIU's outstanding athlete in 1956 and 1958.

A guard at SIU, he played linebacker for the St. Louis Cardinals for seven years. He now lives in Pinckneyville.

A football and track standout, Shannon '62 earned a total of six letters in those sports and set several SIU record, including most points scored in football and fastest time in the 100-yard dash (9.5) in track.

Shannon was most valuable player in 1956 in football, all-conference, all-state, all-district NAIA, and a Little All-America pick by the United Press International in 1956.

Later, he earned all-league honor four times while playing in the Canadian Professional football league and was rookie of the year in 1959. And he played two years with the Los Angeles Rams. He lives in El Segundo, Cal.

The holder of SIU's all-time scoring records in basketball, "Chico" Vaughn ex '62, may have been the best shooter to ever play at SIU. He played three-and-a-half years, compiling the most impressive scoring records at SIU.

Those marks include career points scored (2,008), points scored in a season (779), most field goals for a season (301), and career (779), most free throws for a game (16), season (245) and career (549).

He was SIU and conference most valuable player in 1959, and 1960, and UPI Little All-American in 1960. He played professional ball for eight years with the St. Louis Hawks, Detroit Pistons and Pittsburgh Pipers. He lives in Dixon Springs, Ill.

The University's greatest all-time male gymnast, Mitchell '64, MSED '66, was a member of the 1964 U.S. Olympic team, two-time SIU most valuable, two-time Hinkley Award winner, and captain of SIU's 1964 NCAA championship team.

He was NCAA champion tumbling in 1962 and 1964 and floor exercise champ in 1964. Mitchell was U.S. gymnastics all-around champ three years, and was voted top American gymnast by the U.S. Gymnastics Federation twice.

There is little doubt Kristoff '66, MSED '69, is SIU's all-time great wrestler. A four-letter winner and team captain in 1964, Kristoff earned All-American honors twice.

Kristoff was national AAU champ three times (1963-1965) NCAA College

Division champ in 1963 and 1964, Pan American Games champ in 1967, a member of the 1964 and 1968 Olympic team and runner-up in the 1965 World Games.

A four-year track standout, Woods '67 is the only SIU athlete to win an Olympic medal. He captured silver medals in the shotput in both the 1968 and 1972 Olympiads and was a member of the 1976 Olympic team.

A three-time All American at SIU and a seven-time AAU indoor and outdoor champion, Woods still holds the world indoor track record for the shotput (72 feet, 2 1/4 inches, set in 1974). He lives in Edwardsville and works at SIU-E.

Hart '67 captained the 1964 Saluki football team, a year in which he established a school passing record by throwing 1,594 yards. At SIU, he earned three football letters.

In 1963, he was voted the most valuable football player. A free-agent signee with the St. Louis Cardinals, Hart has played 13 years with the team, establishing himself as one of the great professional quarterbacks today.

He has made three Pro Bowl appearances and was voted the National Football League's most valuable player in 1975. He now lives in Chesterfield, Mo.

Probably the best-known Saluki today is Frazier ex '67. Better known as "Clyde" since leaving SIU in 1967, he earned two letters in basketball and led the Salukis to a National Invitation Tournament championship that year.

At SIU, he was voted most valuable player and the winner of the Hinkley Award in 1967. Frazier made the NIT all-tournament team, was named the tourney's MVP and voted first team All-American.

For the past 11 years, Frazier has played pro ball with the New York Knicks, but was traded this year to the Cleveland Cavaliers. He has been named all-pro seven times.

At Alumni Family Camp
enjoy the fun

BECAUSE OF THE SUCCESS of the Alumni Family Camp last year, the Alumni Association is offering four weeks of camping this summer instead of two. The four weekly sessions at SIU Touch of Nature (Little Grassy Lake, southeast of Carbondale) are: July 9 through July 15; July 16 through July 22; July 23 through July 29 and July 30 through Aug. 5.

AT THE SAME PRICES AS LAST YEAR, two camping plans are being offered. Plan one provides for a cabin, meals and recreational activities. All campers age 12 and above, $95 per week; ages four through 11, $75 and children four and younger, $68. Plan two furnishes meals and recreational activities and you bring your own lodging (tent or trailer). Note prices in plan one and deduct $10 for each parent and $5 for each child regardless of age.

RESERVATIONS are on a first-come basis and must be accompanied by 25 percent of the week's total cost for a family. The camping week extends from Sunday dinner through Saturday breakfast. Make checks payable to the SIU Alumni Association. Final payment is due 35 days prior to camp arrival.

RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES include swimming, boating, horseback riding, nature study, arts and crafts, wilderness tours, archery. FOR CANCELLATIONS a 10 percent charge of the total deposit will be deducted if made 35 days or more prior to camp. If cancellations are made less than 35 days, a 50 percent charge of the total reservation will be made.

MEMBERS of the Alumni Association and their families are eligible to participate.
